JOIN US

We are part of a global movement leading the fight against corruption in over 100 countries. Together we aspire to a unified vision: a world free of corruption.

WHAT WE DO

- Support fairer processes for democratic decision making by our government. Our research presents the best solutions for a national anti-corruption watchdog, better protections for whistleblowers and ensuring our elected representatives put the public's best interest first.
- Strengthen Australia's laws against foreign bribery and money-laundering, and supporting the private sector to implement rigorous policies to prevent these occurring.
- Close the loopholes on corruption in the international mining sector. Our global program is working across some of the world's most resource-rich countries to shine a light on how mining permits are granted and working with partners in government, industry and civil society to reduce corruption risks.
- Collaborate with leading institutions and partners to understand corruption trends and high risk sectors.
